

Cold, wet, oil contaminated?

Perfectly tailored for use also at low temperatures: EP injection resins and EP putty

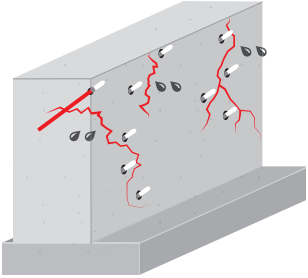

Cold, wet, oil contaminated – these are properties which are less than ideal for structural crack injections. But WEBAC has the solution: When selecting the EP putty WEBAC. 4515 for patching cracks in combination with the EP injection resins WEBAC. 4130 or WEBAC. 4170T nothing will stand in the way of a successful crack repair. It depends on the actual conditions whether a higher viscosity as in WEBAC. 4130 or rather a lower viscosity as in WEBAC. 4170T is suitable for the specific purpose.

EP injection resins	WEBAC. 4170T	WEBAC. 4130
Application	 for damp cracks	 for wet cracks fulfils the requirements on structural crack injections F according to DIN EN 1504-5:2013
Workable life	20 min
Curing at 5 °C at 21 °C	after 66 h at 4 N/mm ² after 15 h at 6 N/mm ²	after 40 h at 7 N/mm ² after 9 h at 6 N/mm ²

EP putty	WEBAC. 4515
Application	for patching cracks and for installing surface packers
Mixing ratio	1 : 1 parts by weight (good error tolerance)
Curing	2 h (25 g/5 mm layer thickness)

BAU MUNICH 2015

Our new trade fair booth was a showstopper and the trade fair a sweeping success. Our staff was in constant dialog with architects, civil engineers, experts, building contractors, customers and potential customers from all over the world.

You didn't have the opportunity to visit us at our trade fair booth? Please call us, we will be glad to introduce our products to you.

NEW STAFF

We are pleased to welcome Jens Barck to the WEBAC team. He has been supporting our domestic sales department since the beginning of the year. Mr. Barck has many years of experience in the construction industry and will be glad to assist you.
